SMALL BUSINESS · ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Turn what you make — and what you know — into a real business.

A woodworker can sell to customers across the country. A neighbor who can fix anything can fill a calendar with paying clients. Today, anyone with a skill and the willingness to learn can build a business — without a storefront, a big budget, or a business degree.

From Workshop to Worldwide is the practical, step-by-step guide to doing exactly that. Follow two example entrepreneurs — Maya the maker and Marcus the service provider — as you learn how to:

- Choose the right product or service — and prove people will pay for it
- Price for real profit with step-by-step calculators
- Set up your business legally: structure, EIN, licenses, sales tax & insurance
- Take photos and write listings that sell
- Find your first customers and market consistently
- Manage money, build systems, and grow toward full time

> A true working book. 33 worksheets, 10 ready-to-use customer templates, a 30-day launch plan, and a first-year success plan turn every chapter into action.

The Skill Junky is a lifelong learner, maker, and entrepreneur who writes practical, no-nonsense guides that help everyday people turn their skills into real income.

VERDANT LIFE LLC

FROM WORKSHOP to WORLDWIDE • THE SKILL JUNKY

THE STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE FOR MAKERS & SERVICE PROVIDERS

FROM WORKSHOP to WORLDWIDE

Build a Profitable Business From the Things You Make and the Services You Provide

THE SKILL JUNKY